Applying Quality Functional Deployment Technique to Design an Alumni Information System for Educational Institution

Collect the voice of customers using questionaire.

Technical targets from QFD were used to design the Alumni Information System.

The system design was developed through Google Platform.

Product planning phase   Design deployment phase